INSPIRING SUCCESS

2015-16
ANNUAL REPORT

INSPIRING SUCCESS

CONCORDIA LIBRARY IS COMMITTED TO SERVING SOCIETY, SUPPORTING DISCOVERY, FREEDOM OF SPEECH AND INTELLECTUAL INQUIRY.

It is with great pride that I present the Concordia Library 2015-16 Annual Report.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks and congratulations to our team of librarians and staff. In the past 12 months, their dedication and hard work has enabled us to plan, build and deliver student-centred services, collections and spaces that support academic success and ensure a stellar university experience, from first year to graduate studies.

We occasionally hear questions on the relevance of academic libraries in the 21st century. A common line of inquiry is: "Why do we need libraries when we have internet access and cafés on every street corner?" This report answers the question by providing you with a glimpse into a year of Library operations as we worked to deliver the very best information resources and publications and quality study environments, as well as personalized services that are tailored to the needs of our students, faculty and staff.

This year, in response to Concordia President Alan Shepard's invitation, the entire Library team was mobilized to develop the Library's five-year strategic plan titled Inspiring Success.

We developed 20 goals that clearly articulate our plan to continue transforming our library in response to the teaching, research and learning needs of our next-generation university.

Another tremendous achievement this year was the delivery of the first two phases of the Webster Library Transformation. While we are only halfway down the road to completion, the expressions of gratitude and support already received from students are testament to the fundamental role of libraries in the university experience.

I thank our Concordia colleagues in Facilities Management and University Communications Services for their talents, contributions and strong partnerships forged with the Library team to deliver this project.

As always, I welcome your thoughts on how the Concordia Library can continue answering your academic needs. Please do not hesitate to contact me at guylaine.beaudry@concordia.ca.

With my best wishes,

GUYLAINE BEAUDRY, PhD

STRATEGIC PLANNING

How should we organize ourselves for empowerment and to better structure our collaborative efforts? What services should we offer to enhance users' experiences in library spaces? How can we transform library services in line with changing academic requirements? How can we improve our processes and ensure our collections meet users' needs? These are a few of the many questions we discussed while establishing the Library's strategic plan.

After consultations and discussions with users and staff, 20 objectives were defined. From these, priorities were determined for the 2016-17 academic year including a timeline and deliverables.

INSPIRING SUCCESS REVOLVES AROUND FOUR THEMES:

1 ORGANIZE FOR EMPOWERMENT

2 TRANSFORM LIBRARY SERVICES IN LINE WITH CHANGING NEEDS

3 PROVIDE SPACES FOR LEARNING AND RESEARCH

4 COLLECTIONS AT THE HEART OF TEACHING, LEARNING AND RESEARCH

We invite you to read the Library's strategic plan, Inspiring Success: Concordia University Library Strategic Plan 2016-21, at library.concordia.ca/about/plan.

NEW VISION STATEMENT

Concordia Library is an intellectually inspiring and engaging environment, which provides collections and services fundamental to academic success, creation, the advancement of knowledge and lifelong learning.

Concordia Library is committed to serving society and supporting discovery, freedom of speech and intellectual inquiry. The Library is an agile organization, responsive to users' needs and expectations.

As members of the Library team, we put student and faculty success at the centre of our practice. We understand the strength of personal interaction to assist, teach and empower. We embrace innovation and change to provide outstanding library services and collections. We welcome extreme collaboration, both internally and externally, and the creation of knowledge and innovation as integral to the advancement of the Library.

LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION TEAM MEMBERS

Lorie Kloda, AUL, planning and community relations

Lorie Kloda, associate university librarian, planning and community relations, was hired in November 2015. This is a newly created position. Lorie holds a master's degree and PhD in information studies from McGill University and brings with her 15 years of experience, including some years at the management level. She comes to us from McGill University, where she was the assessment librarian and contributed to many library strategic initiatives.

Pat Riva, AUL, Collection Services

The Library also welcomed Pat Riva, associate university librarian, Collection Services, in November 2015. Pat holds two bachelor's degrees (one in mathematics from Queen's University and another in linguistics from Concordia) and a master's degree in library and information studies from McGill University. She has extensive experience in library systems and technical services acquired at the McGill University Library and at Bibliothèque et Archives nationales du Québec (BANQ), where she worked on bibliographic standards development at the national and international levels.

ACCOLADES

For the first time in Concordia's history, professional librarians are represented on Senate. Congratulations to Vince Graziano, senior librarian, English, Theatre, History, and Sexuality Studies who was elected by his peers to become the first Senator to represent librarians (June 2015 – May 2018).

Congratulations to Melinda Reinhart, who was promoted to senior librarian in 2015-16. She has dedicated the past 23 years of her career to the pursuit of excellence serving students and faculty members, particularly in the departments of Art Education, Art History, Cinema, Creative Arts Therapies, Design and Computation Arts, and Studio Arts.

We wish to express our gratitude to Sonia Poulin for her outstanding contributions as Acting AUL, Teaching and Learning from August 2015 to May 2016.

We also want to thank Andréa Harland for her continued leadership as head, Interlibrary Loans. Andréa's mandate has been renewed until May 2019.

David Thirlwall, associate university librarian, Teaching and Learning, retired this year. We wish to acknowledge his exceptional contribution and thank him for his many years of service. David started working at Concordia in 2000 as head of the Vanier Library. He then became assistant director, Library Personnel, and subsequently, associate university librarian, Personnel and Communications, prior to his mandate as AUL, Teaching and Learning. David joined Concordia from the University of Manitoba Libraries, where he had worked for 20 years in positions of increasing responsibility. He completed two bachelor's degrees prior to obtaining his MLIS at the University of Western Ontario.

Long-time employees Sylvia Garfield, circulation/stacks clerk, and John Hislop, collection clerk, also retired this year.

Our sincerest thanks go out to David, Sylvia and John for their respective service and contributions to Concordia Library. We extend to them our very best wishes for a healthy and rewarding retirement.

The Freda Otchere Staff Recognition Award was given this year to Martine Langevin in recognition of her exceptional contribution to the Government Publications Collection Reconfiguration Project. The award was established thanks to the generous donation from Dan Otchere, an associate professor in Concordia's Department of Economics, to encourage and reward staff currently working for Concordia Library whose commitment and professionalism reflect the values exemplified by the late Freda Otchere. It is the highest honour and award given to a Concordia Library staff member. Martine Langevin is reference assistant in the Information Services department.

THE LIBRARY SPACES

In an unprecedented effort to answer our users' longstanding requests for additional and quality study spaces, Concordia launched the Webster Library Transformation that is slated for completion by fall 2017. The Webster Library Transformation is a four-phase, three-year project and a radical rethinking of our Library spaces. It goes beyond space reconfiguration and extends to the Library's collections, technology and services.

R. HOWARD WEBSTER LIBRARY TRANSFORMATION

The two recently renovated floors (LB3 and LB5) are stunning, bright and conducive to zero-noise, quiet study and collaborative group work. Our students expressed their appreciation for their transformed Webster Library in no uncertain terms:

“Concordia keeps reinventing itself and I like what I’m seeing!”

“Thanks for making this great space for us to study and research”

“Beyond amazing! We entered into a new era of studying. Excellent job.”

The staircase wraparound that includes directional signage as well as the Library Poetry Contest's three winning poems

Many academic libraries throughout North America have recently developed master plans to rehabilitate their library spaces in order to respond to new needs. It is precisely this shift towards digital culture that has presented the possibility of a new paradigm for library space planning at Concordia.

While resolutely integrating the digital, we have not lost sight of students' needs for quality and diverse study spaces.

By project end, the number of seats will be increased by 114 per cent, from 1,550 to more than 3,100 seats.

There will be 27 per cent more study space, 21 different types of study and research environments, 21km of books, 9 living walls to improve air quality, and the latest in technologies such as a 3D printer, discovery counters, a technology sandbox and a data visualization studio.

Perhaps the biggest challenge we face during the Webster Library Transformation is that the Library has to remain open 24/7 and offer continuous access to its collections, services and spaces as the renovations proceed. The logistics and attention to detail that accompany each step of the renovation are astounding. For example, some of the construction work is undertaken at night and great care is taken to ensure minimal disruption during exam periods.

The Library keeps the community informed at every phase of the project with the rollout of a comprehensive communications plan.

Collaborating with our colleagues at University Communications Services, the Library's communication campaign won two awards: the 2016 Gold Award for Best Practices in Communications and Marketing from the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) District 1 and the 2016 Prix d'Excellence Gold Medal for Best PR/Marketing/Communications Initiative from the Canadian Council for the Advancement of Education (CCAEE). The campaign involved creating a distinct identity for the Webster Library Transformation Project, wrapping construction sites with colourful and informative signage and displays, publishing a dedicated blog to inform the university community of construction progress, engaging students in providing feedback and input, and disseminating information through existing campus channels, speaking events and the external media.

PHASE 1

In order to gain much needed space, the weeding of low-use duplicates from the circulating book collections was completed in June 2015. By doing so, the Library gained 4,500 linear feet of shelving. We started to move the monographs (A through G) at the end of fall 2015 and new frames and posts for shelving were acquired to accommodate an eighth shelf in several sections of the Library.

Phase 1 opened on September 28, 2015. With it, the Webster Library gained three group study rooms, one seminar/thesis defense room, a new collaborative space, the Friends of the Library/zero-noise room, and two large enclosed reading rooms with 204 seats at tables, 96 seats at tables with desktop computers and 154 seats at carrels, all located on the LB3-Bishop side. The LB3-Mackay side also boasts a fantastic multifunctional classroom and the shell for the future data visualization studio (to include visualization technology as part of Phase 4).

The painting Red K, a diptych (oil on canvas) by the artist Gershon Iskowitz (Poland 1921–Canada 1988), has been on loan to the Library since February 2016, courtesy of the Leonard & Bina Ellen Art Gallery. It is displayed in the seminar room.

Phase 2 of the renovation encompassed the entire fifth floor;

a much-needed addition to the original Library plan. The LB5-Mackay side now includes three dissertation writers' rooms with a lounge, kitchenette, lockers, shelving and designated photocopier/printer/scanner for graduate students, in addition to two group study rooms, shelving for collections, three large quiet reading rooms and CLUES stations. The monographs QA 76.8 to Z are now located on the newly renovated LB5. Twenty-eight reference librarians and employees from Information Services and part of Information Systems and Technology moved to LB5 in February 2016.

On April 21, 2016, winners of the Poetry Contest were announced, marking the completion of Phase 2.

Students were asked to submit an original poem of 100 words or less on the theme of "library." One hundred and twenty-three poems were submitted by 81 different poets. The winning submissions are posted on the Library staircase wraparound as well as at the Vanier Library and Grey Nuns Reading Room, on the Library website (library.concordia.ca/poetry) and on page 29 of this annual report.

GRADUATE STUDENT LIBRARY SPACES

Writing a thesis is a challenging and potentially isolating experience. In the new dissertation writers' rooms, graduate students can undertake focused work in a comfortable and inspiring space amid their peers. It is a distraction-free zone and a home base. Students can take a break in the adjoining lounge and reserve a bookshelf or locker for the term.

Graduate students' responses to this new space have been extremely positive. The dissertation writers' rooms can accommodate 72 students.

LB5, view of the graduate students' lounge and the Venezuela dissertation writers' room

Once the Webster Library Transformation is completed, LB-545, the Spain reading room will also become part of the graduate student space, making it a hub of interdisciplinary graduate activity.

PHASE 3

Phase 3 (LB2) of the Webster Library Transformation began in February 2016. It is the most challenging of the four phases as it encompasses all of LB2, including the entrance, information desk (as per the rendering below) and main staircase.

Temporary entrance to Webster Library on Mackay Street

In May 2016, the Webster Library opened a temporary entrance on Mackay Street for the duration of Phase 3 of the Webster Library Transformation. The staircase leads directly to LB3. For individuals who require elevator access, we ensured that LB3 remained accessible by way of a clearly marked elevator in the atrium.

LB3, Kenya group study room

LB5, banquettes in the collaborative space

Group-based work contributes to skill and knowledge acquisition while simulating the conditions of a future work environment.

In 2015-16, the Library saw the total number of group study/presentation practice/consultation rooms increase to 34 (11 at Webster; 9 at Vanier and 14 at Grey Nuns).

At the end of the Webster Transformation, 42 group study rooms (including 19 at the Webster Library) will be available to students for teamwork. These rooms have several functions: group work, discussion, presentation preparation and, in some cases, meetings with a librarian.

The Library also created collaborative spaces that fulfill similar functions but are more informal. These are extremely popular with students.

THE LIBRARY COLLECTIONS

SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Responsibility for 100 private research collections originally acquired by Concordia's Records Management and Archives Department (RMAD) was transferred to the Library in 2012.

The physical move of the materials to Special Collections began in 2015-16 and most are now available for consultation in the Vanier Library reading room. As per the agreement between Concordia Library and RMAD, the Library will continue to assume responsibility for the acquisition of private collections in accordance with the Special Collections Collection Development Policy and the Policy on the Acquisition of Archives.

- The Archives and Special Collections Shared Catalogue was launched in October 2015 to provide increased and improved access to archival fonds and collections at the university.

Additional information is available at concordia.accesstomemory.org.

- Additional archival storage space at the Vanier Library on the Loyola Campus was delivered in January 2016 to accommodate our growing collection.
- The Acquisitions Advisory Committee was established to advise on proposed donations to Special Collections. The membership for the 2016-18 committee consists of:
  - Pat Riva, associate university librarian, Collection Services (Chair)
  - Professor Andre Furlani, Chair, English Department
  - Professor Steven High, Department of History
  - Professor Catherine MacKenzie, Department of Art History
  - Alexandra Mills, special collections archivist
  - Vince Graziano, senior librarian
  - Belinda Pyle, development officer, Concordia Library

Five new donations were accepted at the Acquisitions Advisory Committee's first meeting.

- Thanks to a generous donation from American scientist George Taylor, a rare collection of around 100 books and periodicals written by or about Guy Davenport — the American writer, scholar, translator and illustrator — has a new home in Concordia Library's Special Collections.
- The Blumer Collection of Rare Books and Manuscripts has recently been lent to Special Collections. This collection, composed of important works of philosophy, poetry, history and theatre in Latin, French, English and German, continues to grow.
- Fynes Moryson's *An Itinerary was donated to Special Collections by Barry Sheehy in May 2016. This book, published in 1617, is one of the earliest travelogues and tourist guides published in the English language. An Itinerary also contains a military history covering the Nine Years' War in Ireland (1592-1603). The donation of this foundational text has encouraged the development of an Irish History and Literature collection at Concordia Library.
- Deposits to the following funds were also made this year:
  - Bob Redmond fond
  - Irving Layton fond
  - La Centrale fond

- Merrily Weisbord fond
- Negro Community Centre/Charles H. Este Cultural Centre fond
- Sur Rodney Sur fond

ONLINE RESOURCES

The number of online journals, books and databases made available through the Library is constantly growing. The new online resources purchased in 2015-16 cover a wide range of subjects, from science and business to history and classical studies. To name a few: the Jerusalem Post and Irish Times (full backfiles online), MIT Society & Culture (2015 collection), American Mathematical Society: Student Mathematical Library (1999-2014 backfiles), International Encyclopedia of Revolution and Protest, and the Edward Elgar Business and Management ebook collection (years 2015 and 2016).

COLLABORATIVE PURCHASING THROUGH THE BUREAU DE COOPÉRATION INTERUNIVERSITAIRE

In 2015-16, Concordia participated alongside 11 other Quebec universities in a cooperative demand-driven acquisitions project for ebooks. In this type of acquisition, all the ebooks are made available in the Library catalogue, and a purchase is triggered once an ebook is consulted twice, by any user(s) from a participating institution. In total, 987 ebooks from a variety of publishers were purchased in this way for all 12 participating universities between November 2015 and March 2016. Another 951 ebooks were consulted by a single user during this period.

LIBRARY SERVICES

To better meet the academic needs of the Concordia community, the Webster Library and Vanier Library are open 24/7 during the academic year, while the Grey Nuns Reading Room is accessible 12 to 13 hours per day.

Concordia Library users are supported by welcoming staff, superb facilities, outstanding collections and a full range of services.

NEW eRESERVES SYSTEM OFFERS USER-FRIENDLY INTERFACE AND INCREASED EFFICIENCY

In July 2015, a new Online Course Reserves Service was launched. While the Library has offered digital course readings and loaned course textbooks for several years, this new system is more user-friendly for students and faculty, allows for the processing of readings in a more efficient manner, and is compatible with two of Concordia's biggest teaching and learning-related systems: the Student Information System (SIS) and the Course Management System (Moodle). The new system is a central hub where faculty can manage readings for their courses in a manner that is easy to use, allows for swift reuse of readings from one semester to the next and facilitates the copyright clearance process.

NEW WEBSITE AND DISCOVERY SEARCH: A GATEWAY TO WORLD-CLASS RESEARCH RESOURCES

The Concordia Library ushered in 2016 with a brand-new Library website.

Screen capture of the homepage of the new Library website

Rethinking our website was quite a challenge — and we embraced it with great enthusiasm. After all, the Library website is a significant component of our service offer as it provides access to our digital library and a wealth of information sources.

Changes were informed by feedback received in a 2014 usability study involving 72 Concordia participants, as well as the 2013 LibQUAL+ survey. The new website highlights top Library services with icons and features a prominent search box for the discovery search, new navigation, recommended resources by user type, dynamically generated opening hours for the three locations, news items with images, separate sections for events and notices, and real-time availability for desktop computers, laptops and tablets.

Librarians have long realized the need for a single search point to facilitate access to collections. The Concordia Library website now has a single search box, also known as the discovery search. It is best described as a topic search; it exposes users to a large variety of print and digital materials on a specific topic. Search results include relevant materials found in the Library catalogue, plus a large proportion of our subscription database articles in full-text journal articles, ebooks, image banks, streaming videos and audio, together with print materials — and access is granted in just a few clicks!

SERVICES FOR GRADUATE STUDENTS

In collaboration with the GradProSkills team and the School of Graduate Studies, Concordia Library hosted its first Thesis Boost: Three-Day Writing Retreat in May 2016. Fifty-one graduate students in masters and PhD programs worked intensively on their theses for three days in the new dissertation writers' rooms. Students participated in five optional workshops and a writing workshop facilitated by Concordia President Alan Shepard that proved to be very popular. Librarians and writing assistants were also available by appointment to help students.

Throughout 2015-16, subject librarians facilitated a range of workshops also under the umbrella of the GradProSkills program. Workshops covered research skills for a range of departments, as well as copyright and research impact. There were 10 workshops in fall 2015, 10 in winter 2016 and 3 in spring 2016.

Concordia President Alan Shepard shared his personal and professional insight at the thesis-writing retreat.

ADDITIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Close to 160 students participated in the Local Hack Day 2015 held in part in the multifunctional room. This event was sponsored by the Major League Hacking (MLH) organization, and organized locally by the Software Engineering and Computer Science Society (Concordia Chapter) with the involvement of the Library. The event lasted 12 hours and unfolded at a frantic pace as students worked on a variety of projects involving Android iOS applications, 3D modelling, Arduino, Raspberry Pi, LED cube and Twitter apps. The session was streamed live on the MLH's website and was accessible to students around the world. (October 2015)
- First-time participation at the Concordia University Open House (November 2015)
- Establishment of a new daily traffic record at the Webster Library: Just short of 13,000 visitors on December 7, 2015
- Concordia Library participates in outreach activities such as the New Faculty Orientation organized by the Centre for Teaching and Learning, and the Student Success Centre's Graduate Connection Networking Event (Fall 2015)
- A total of eight pet therapy sessions were held at Webster Library and at Vanier Library. (December 2015 and April 2016)

PARTNERSHIPS WITH STUDENTS AND FACULTY

Again this year, Concordia Library wishes to thank the Library Services Fund Committee (LSFC) and, in particular, its student representatives Simon Dansereau, Lori-Marie Dimaria, Aloyse Muller, Mélanie Proulx, and Chloe Williams for their ongoing support. The LSFC was established in accordance with Article 5 of the CSU Library Services Fund Agreement between the Concordia Student Union and Concordia for the purpose of providing additional or improved library services at both Webster Library and Vanier Library.

In 2015, the LSFC helped fund among other things:

- 24-hour access to Vanier Library and Webster Library
- The laptop and tablet loan program, which involved the purchase of 80 laptops in summer 2015 and 20 more throughout the academic year as replacements. There are 180 laptops available at Webster Library and 80 at Vanier Library for a total of 260 laptops, resulting in an average of about 11,000 laptop loans per month, concentrated in the fall and winter semesters
- Acquisition of textbooks and other course materials for both Webster Library and Vanier Library
- 24/7 self-service at the Vanier Course Reserves Room
- Nine living walls to be installed on all four floors of the Webster Library as part of the Webster Library Transformation
- The new Technology Program at the Webster Library

Vanier Library, circulation desk

Concordia Library also wishes to express its gratitude to the Senate Library Committee whose mandate is to act as an advisory body of the Senate to the university librarian. Its membership consists of Guylaine Beaudry, chair; professors Graham Dodds, Shannon McSheffrey, Nancy St-Onge, Chitu Okoli, Johanne Sloan, and Chunyan Wang; Pat Riva, associate university librarian, Collection Services; Vince Graziano, senior librarian; two undergraduate students, Kira Cormier and Lucinda Marshall-Kiparissis; and one graduate student, Khushboo Handa.

ADDITIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

- Concordia Library sponsored a prize at the 2016 Montreal Regional Science and Technology Fair (Expo-Science) awarded to the team that best utilized library resources (March 2016)
- As part of their annual training week, our colleagues from the University of Ottawa Libraries visited Concordia Library to learn about the Webster Library Transformation (May 13, 2016)

- Poetry month at the Vanier Library
- Science Literacy Week
- Media and politics
- Comics
- Pottery
- Classic rock
- Japanese Art
- Microhistories
- Travel
- Hockey
- Quantum mechanics
- Alice in Wonderland: 150th Anniversary
- Drama
- Clothing and dress
- Portraiture
- The Canadian election
- World Water Day March 22 (digital display)
- Remembrance Day (digital display)
- Underwater
- TV: The small screen
- Contemporary Canadian politics
- Art Deco
- Pioneer Canada
- Home
- Scientific illustration
- Improbable libraries (digital display)
- Concordia honorary doctorates 2015 (digital display)

On Their Own

Curated by Melinda Reinhart, senior librarian, Visual Arts

This selection of artists' publications from Concordia Library collections included works by former and current students from the Faculty of Fine Arts either published through small presses or self-published.

Traces

Curated by student-artist Marie Ségolène C. Brault,

Department of Studio Arts

Through drawing, sculpture, performance and video installations, the artist investigated ideas of personal mythology, rituals and archives.

Can you tell us what they said, we're taped

Curated by student-artists Mathilde Rohr and Samuel Normand, both of the Department of Studio Arts

The focus of the performance was on the process underlining the present moment and the unexpected.

Scripting

Curated by Professor Linda Swanson, Department of Studio Arts, and

Professor Susan Surette, Department of Art History

This interdisciplinary project was conceived as a two-part exercise involving the initial making of the ceramic works by ceramics students, followed by an art historical/critical response to them written by ceramic history students.

Where are Books Going

Curated by student-artist Katie Lefevre, Department of Art Education

In this exhibition, Katie Lefevre created a series of sculpted texts and asked "where are all the books going?" This was a metaphorical question for pondering the future of knowledge as it informs, and is informed by, cultural aesthetics.

COLLABORATIONS

Reading Exercises / Exercices de Lectures

The exhibition was organized by the Leonard & Bina Ellen Art Gallery.

The Webster Library collaborated with the Gallery through the display of the work Index/Criminal Offenses, Chapter 11, 2008-2015, by Mexican artist Ricardo Cuevas.

TERRARIUM Installation

Two of our plants (zamioculcas zamiifolia and polyscias scutellaria) originally acquired with support from the Library Services Fund Committee, were lent to the Leonard & Bina Ellen Art Gallery for the TERRARIUM Installation located on the ground floor of the Henry F.Hall Building. The project, which is the brainchild of artist Catherine Lescarbeau, was part of the SIGHTINGS satellite exhibition program created to celebrate the gallery's 50th anniversary.

SCHOLARLY PUBLICATIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Spectrum, Concordia's open access research repository, has consistently ranked among the most impactful academic institutional repositories in North America. In January 2016, the Ranking Web of World repositories placed Spectrum 6th out of 49 repositories in Canada and 52nd out of 455 in North America.

Several enhancements to Spectrum were implemented in 2015, including a platform upgrade and a new statistical package. The total number of downloads from June 1, 2015, to May 31, 2016, was 831,875.

The editorial board of the Concordia University Press met several times in January 2016 to help establish submission guidelines and an editorial policy. The press was presented to various university bodies, including Senate and the Board of Governors, in April and May 2016 respectively. Preparation for the Concordia University Press launch is going well. The new press will publish open access, peer-reviewed books. You may visit the website: concordia.ca/press. The Library wishes to acknowledge the generous support of the Birks Family Foundation and Brian Neysmith, BSc 66.

In 2015-16, data services librarian Alex Guindon and mathematics librarian Danielle Dennie undertook a research project that aimed to assess the current practices of Concordia researchers in terms of research data management and identify their needs for related services to be offered by the Library and/or Concordia. The final report will outline the results of the survey, as well as include excerpts from interviews and formulate recommendations for the development of data management services at the Concordia Library.

The library is developing a project to create a saga temporal media platform to support the collection, dissemination and long-term preservation of oral history materials, among others. Alumnus Richard Stilwell, BA 68, generously contributed a gift of $25,000 towards the project.

The 2015-16 Librarians' Forum Steering Committee consisted of Krista Alexander, Guylaine Beaudry, Katharine Hall (chair) and Alexandra Mills. It was responsible for organizing the Concordia Libraries' 14th Annual Research Forum and Brown Bag Series.

This year, the 14th Annual Research Forum was held on April 29, 2016. The day included a keynote address by Professor Steven High, eight presentations on diverse topics ranging from digital humanities to collections assessment, and 12 poster presentations on information literacy and library instruction design. Steven High is the Canada Research Chair in oral history and co-director of the Centre for Oral History and Digital Storytelling at Concordia. An impressive 30 per cent acceptance rate among presentation submissions is indicative of the reputation of this annual event.

The Brown Bag Series presentations included:

- Vincent Larivière, assistant professor at Université de Montréal and Canada Research Chair on the Transformations of Scholarly Communication, gave an overview on the field of bibliometrics
- Élise Lassonde, curator of the heritage collection of artists' books at BANQ, presented an introduction to Quebec artists' books
- Jason Camlot, associate dean, Faculty of Arts and Science, spoke about the Mordecai Richler Reading Room and Writer-in-Residence program
- Marc Pitre, senior copyright officer at the Canadian Centre for Architecture, spoke about copyright, fair dealing, and rights and reproductions in libraries, archives and museums

The Brown Bag series opened this year with an informal forum for librarians to report on conferences they attended and closed with a roundtable on Concordia librarians' current research activities.
